the Cotton States.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Preliminary plans designed to make available the resources of the Federal reserve system, in the annual fall movement of crops, have been worked out by the Federal Reserve Board. Written to the twelve regional banks, the plan is set out in a letter read

The board's action was taken, the better says, to forestall any possibility of congestion of crops this fall or lack of financial accommodation to move them and to avoid a recurrence of the stringency which in the past has checked this movement.

Although the board applies its plan to wheat, corn and all other cereals, it devotes most attention to the cotton crop, which, it says, is peculiarly sensitive to such action.

to absorb the export trade. Usually the crop movement has been taken care of by government interests in banks or the issue of emergency currency act, which expired last year. In place of these agencies, the board states, there is ample authority in the Federal reserve act to meet the situation this fall. The large surplus reserves now held by the Federal reserve banks by member banks and other banks through the country, make the board confident that there will be no difficulty in affording the assistance necessary to enable them to market their products in volume corresponding to

In order to accomplish this it is suggested that Federal reserve banks adopt a definite policy with reference to the use of their funds by documents in satisfactory form evidencing the ownership of and agricultural products.

Through this policy, together with methods of financing, Federal reserve banks can be a powerful factor in assisting the normal movement of agricultural products from the field to the factory or the consumer. It is recommended that regulations governing the requirement of notes covering such movement be established by such Federal reserve banks whose members are actively engaged in guiding the movement of such crops.

Federal reserve banks should particularly point out to their members notes are prepared to receive the cotton, and the notes are then purchased by proper warehouse receipts in cotton, and accompanied by evidence of insurance."

SECURITY REQUIRED.

Member banks, the letter says, which offer the notes to Federal reserve banks for rediscount, should be able to state the grade and market value of the cotton, and the notes should be sold at a 10 per cent discount, providing the right to call for full security in event of a decline in market value.

The structure of the notes would rest primarily to the judgment of member bank," says the letter.

The board suggests that the reserve banks be authorized to accept the notes to the desirability of reserving space for such cotton as is to be used as security for loans in localities where the cotton is produced.

mate. The letter says that while it is not sufficient warehouse space south to take care of the cotton crop, there is probably the facility for the proper storage of cotton likely to be pledged for similar means may be taken to aid financing other agricultural products, the letter says, wherever available a system of warehouses, stores or other approved means of holding and certifying.

PLAN TO WAR SECRETARY.The Governor of the Zone is Sum-

Visit California.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

PANAMA, Aug. 2.—Just as he was leaving here today on board the steamer Pastores for New York, for his vacation, Maj.-Gen. George W.

Goethals, Governor of the Panama

Canal Zone, received instructions to appear in Washington immediately instead of beginning his vacation.

Gen. Goethals said that while no direct information had reached him concerning these instructions he had been informed indirectly that his presence was desired in Washington in order that he might confer with the authorities there regarding army reorganization, particularly with reference to the strength, disposition and housing of the troops in the Canal

Zone.

SEVERAL PLANS.

Gen. Goethals said he had several plans in view which he would submit to Secretary of War Garrison. These he declined to outline. It is understood that the views of the Governor of the Canal Zone are not altogether in accord with those of Brig.-Gen.

Clarence R. Edwards, commander of the Canal Zone forces, which were forwarded to the Secretary of War several weeks ago.

After proceeding to Washington,

Gen. Goethals, who is accompanied by his wife and son, Thomas, will make a tour of the West, visiting the California exhibitions. He will return to Panama in the steamer Pastores, but before doing this he will tender his resignation as Governor to President Wilson, and will make appearance to be placed on the retired list of the army.

Dr. Osler on Tuberculosis

Medicine" (1897), says in his "Practice of Medicine" (1897), on page 149: "The healing of pulmonary tuberculosis is shown clinically by the absorption of fibrinous exudates, the resorption of caseous masses, the formation of cystic cavities, and the formation of calcareous masses and cavities. In the granulation products and associated pneumonia a scar tissue is formed, which is white and firm. The scar tissue is composed of a dense network of collagenous tissue impregnated with lime salts. To such conditions alone should the term healing be applied."

The Richest Newboy.

Mose Jacobs, sometimes called the "richest newboy," is registered at the Hollenbeck from Des Moines, where he has property interests valued at some $200,000, all of which he earned by selling newspapers on the streets of that city. For the last thirty-two years—Mr. Jacobs is now 46 years old—he has worked something like eighteen hours a day, according to his friends. Although he has a fine home, a wife and son, he is still selling papers.

DIVA IN FILM LAND.

Sings for "Movie" People, Braves Tiger in His Cage and Sits on Elephant's Knee.

Madame Schumann-Heink sang at Universal City yesterday and all the work connected with the making of the "movie" ceased while the diva's voice charmed 1500 Universalites.

Her selection was "The Roseary." Three lusty cheers were given for the singer who beamed her gratitude.

Nat C. Goodwin, Hobart Bosworth and Henry McRae stood by Madame Schumann-Heink while she sang and in the ovation.

Madame Schumann-Heink visited the zoo and was asked: "Would you go into a cage with the tiger?"

Quickly came her answer: "If you are sure the tiger will not jump on me, I'll go in."

Paul Bourgeois, the trainer, assured her she would not be in any danger, and she entered the cage with Bourgeois just after he had introduced the snarling beast to ascend a pedestal.

As she left the cage, the singer carried her head proudly and said: "Now you see how much courage I have, and," she added, "I'm not even afraid of a mouse."

Then Charlie, the big elephant, was brought out by his trainer and lifted Madame Schumann-Heink on his knee.

With the diva were her four sons and one daughter, Mrs. Hubert Guy of San Diego. The sons were Hans Heink, who was with Mrs. Heink; Ferdinand Schumann, who was with Mrs. Schumann; George Washington Schumann and Henry Heink. Others in the party were Hubert Guy, Miss Thelma Jones, Miss Elsie Behrmer, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Behrmer, and Mrs. Roy Malcolm of Los Angeles.

JULY POSTAL RECEIPTS.

The receipts of the Los Angeles postoffice for the month of July show a slight reduction, the figures for July, 1914, being $170,362.87, as against $169,617.85 for the past month, a reduction of $745.02. The showing is an excellent one considering all conditions, as every office in the country indicates a slow month in July.

SAFE IN CANADA.

Secret Service Agent for this District Returns After Tour of Notable Interest with East Indian Potentate—German Spy-thief Goes to Penitentiary.

George W. Hazen, special agent of the United States Treasury Department, returned yesterday from a six weeks' trip as the representative of the State Department with the Maharajah of Kapurthala, His Highness Jagatjit Singh Bahadur and his party. Mr. Hazen left them at Calgary, where they were taken in charge by the Dominion government.

Mr. Hazen received orders to join the East Indian party at Salt Lake the latter part of June, and while in that city was instrumental in securing the conviction of Lawrence von Arnim, supposed to be a German spy. He entered the room of the Maharajah and took therefrom a valuable box containing a letter of credit for $3000 English sovereigns issued by the Thomas Cook Company, 104 gold sovereigns and the official passports of the party. Von Arnim was sent to the Utah penitentiary for three years.

It was a part of the history of the case that Von Arnim thought he would be able to discover in the personal belongings of the Maharajah some official notice that he was the representative of the English government in this country, but he was not successful, as it only held the personal papers, money, etc., of the East Indian retinue.

The trip of Mr. Hazen with the party extended through Yellowstone National Park, with side trips to all places of interest, going as far north as Seattle, thence down to San Francisco, and north again to the Canadian border. He says the Maharajah is a delightful company, that he speaks excellent English, and that the potentate seemed to appreciate the honors that were accorded him by the State Department in furnishing him with a representative of the government as long as his party was in the country. In addition to the Maharajah, the party consisted of His Highness, the Maharajah of Kapurthala, Prince Karamjit and a retinue of secretaries and maid servants, together with more than 200 pieces of baggage.

During his trip in the care of Mr. Hazen, the Maharajah was in receipt of a number of anonymous letters written in Hindustani threatening the life of the recipient if he did not relieve the sufferings of the starving Hindus, in parts of India other than in the principality where he reigns. Other letters, threatening bombs, etc., were received.

The Maharajah is one of the ruling princes of India, who contributed generously to the war fund organized by the leading rulers of England's great dependency. The territory over which he rules comprises the State of Kapurthala, which has an area of 652 square miles, and a population of 214,000. He is the ruler of the province of Oudh, in Central India. He is the possessor of a number of palaces, one of which is located at Idah, in the State of Kapurthala.

One of the features of the trip of Mr. Hazen was the discovery and destruction of a number of ruse pictures found in the strong box stolen by Von Arnim. They were seized by the State authorities of Oudh, and forfeited by Von Arnim to secure them in the hope of compromising the Maharajah, but they were destroyed. When the pictures belonged to him, he declared they were the property of one of his private secretaries, Mr. Rol. The latter accepted full responsibility, saying they were purchased of one of the stewards on a French ship which they made the trip from the Orient.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
 (At Home.) Further trade reports of a favorable nature contributed to the strength of our security markets. These reports did not come alone from war material houses, but from all industrial sections. Railroads are greatly benefited by recent heavy shipments of foodstuffs and raw materials to and from the West. Copper especially is strong, prices being advanced one to four points.

(Abroad.) German bankers will finance $50,000,000 of a Bulgarian loan, and redeem $24,000,000 more for the same government. (For details see financial pages.)

SOME BORES.

Some men are bores. Some men acquire boresness. And some men merely tell Ford stories.

FROM FRYING PAN TO FIRE.

Walking from Kansas City to San Francisco is said to have cured a girl of tuberculosis. Wonder what she will now take as a cure for corns?

SAVING THE FLAG.

No matter what Mexico does to the proposition, and we all know what Huerta did not do, Chief of Police Binney intends to see to it that the Los Angeles police salute the flag every time they meet it.

WHERE IT IS "AT."

No, Santa Monica is not trying to find out if it is a city, but only if it has a city government. It does not want to fool around until it cannot recognize itself. It is determined never to put itself in a class with Mexico.

HITTING WHILE IT HURTS.

The city health officer of Pasadena has discovered that it is 250,000 times more effective to swat a fly in December than it is in the summer. We have no doubt that this is correct in theory, but who on earth wants to wait until December to swat a fly that is tickling the bald spot on his head in August?

DESERVED THEIR AWARDS.

We are going to risk our neutrality far enough to say that we are heartily glad that the singing section of the local Turnverein won the gold cup offered by Kaiser Wilhelm and the one donated by Emperor Franz Josef, and we will go further and state that we are sure that it was the quality of the local music and not the politeness of our happy guests which brought about these awards.

CRUEL FASHION.

The latest decree in masculine fashions is that the tie should match the hair. And nothing looks quite so unfinished, so imperfect, as a man without a tie. This is carrying the negligee style a bit too far. We trust and hope that men will set their face against this pernicious innovation. Here and now let us not hesitate to declare our inviolate intention to wear some sort of a tie, or at least a necktie. Just because nature has played us a scurvy trick is no good reason why we should allow the painful fact to be palpably evident, even when we have our hat on. Fashion be damned.

NOT AFRAID OF WINNING.

The Iowa people are to have one of their grand annual Southern California round-ups, which means the foregathering of about half the population of the Southland, and at this meeting they are going to offer a prize for the homeliest man on the picnic grounds. You would think that this would keep two-thirds of the male prospects of this picnic away, but human nature works quite on another method. You could pick out ten thousand of the ugliest men on earth and give them a picnic with the intention of selecting the homeliest of the bunch and they would all be there. Not one would ever believe that he could possibly be it.

AN OLD-FASHIONED PLAY.

The play at the Burbank this week is the real old-fashioned article. The water flows from the pump into a dipper and sloshes over upon the stage. Maiden ladies of ancient vintage persist in sweeping the premises until the audience has its lungs filled with old-fashioned dust. The villain apostrophizes himself and talks directly to the audience with nobody but himself in sight on the stage. We make free to mention all this because we notice that our critic left his sense of humor at home in order to give his heart up unstintingly to the pretty little lady who is the dainty Rebecca of the play. In these artificial days of stage realism it is good to get back to the naturalness of stage artificiality.

RENTS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The municipality of Pretoria in South Africa, in order to prevent certain quarters of the town from taking on the nature of slums, has under consideration the erection of twenty-four workmen's cottages, each consisting of two rooms, pantry and bathroom, to cost approximately $1750 each and to be let at a rental of $15 per month.

Building material and workmen's wages must be high in Pretoria. Seventeen hundred and fifty dollars will build a five or six-room cottage in Los Angeles with a greenhouse—called by courtesy a garage—in the rear. Such a bungalow embowered in flowers and foliage can be rented for $15 a month and if it is not convenient to pay the rent when due, the landlord will cheerfully call again, and again, and yet again.

LET UP ON TAXES!

In a well-organized, properly-ordered family the members partake of the wealth thereof in practically equal shares. When the head of the family dies the wealth is generally distributed among the survivors share and share alike. It is a pretty good philosophy.

Los Angeles city, like other municipalities, may very well be regarded in the light of a family. The municipal wealth should be enjoyed as practically equally as that of the natural family. Of course here the parallel ceases, as the political family never dies.

When things are prosperous everything goes beautifully along. But in dull times it is often difficult to provide enough of the goods of the world to go around comfortably. Dull times are the exception in the city of Los Angeles and, being so unaccustomed to them, we perhaps know less than other communities about how to accommodate ourselves to the lack of wealth.

Taking classes as members of the political family, we find one of these represented by the officeholders of the political body. These, so far as they are mere officeholders, are not producers of wealth but consumers thereof. The other class of the population or members of the great family toll at their occupations to create wealth, a part of which goes to support the non-producing members, bunched here as the officeholders.

The wealth-producers have been very liberal to the wealth-consumers; in other words, the taxpayers have gone on cheerfully meeting every obligation laid upon them by the tax-consumers. They could do this easily because times were flush and money came easily. The taxpayers of Los Angeles have been particularly generous in their support of their city government, realizing that the vast growth in population called for corresponding outlays. The citizens have been proud of the progress made by the city and have not begrudged a penny demanded by the officials for the support of the city government.

Few people in Los Angeles are complaining yet about the stringency of the money market, the dullness of business and the difficulty of making ends meet. At the same time it is not so easy to meet the demands upon the purses of the wealth-producers, property-holders, taxpayers of the city. They have little or nothing to say as to the levying of taxes, their share of the body politic being to meet the demands of the officials.

Henceforth the tax-eaters have not felt a particle of the dullness of business, nor know anything personally about any stringency in the money market. Indeed the officials have gone on very gaily raising salaries and wages for the benefit of their own kind. They have seen the necessity of extending different municipal activities in order to meet the growing wants of the rapidly-increasing population of the city.

Now, friends, we are all members of the same family, and it is not only fair that you officeholders should consider the necessities of the case and sympathetically take your places among the taxpayers who are to find it very difficult to meet the obligations you demand of them to carry the burdens you are piling on their shoulders. It is really going to be very hard for many property-holders to meet their tax obligations in the coming year. We are not pleading for the wealthy. They can take care of themselves and meet their taxes without curtailing from their breakfast or dinner tables or foregoing a single luxury. But, fellow-citizens, there a great many property-owners whose holdings are small, whose income is meager, and who will find it very difficult to pay their taxes. Will you not consider their case?

THE BRITISH WAR LOAN.

According to the Wall Street Journal, the British war loan is "the most tremendous piece of national financing the world has ever seen."

And it is already evident that it is going to affect the investment securities of the whole world. With the British Empire offering 4 1/2 per cent, where it hitherto regarded 2 1/2 per cent as an adequate sufficiency, British capital, which has been wont to support enterprises in other countries the world over, has been effectually persuaded to stay at home.

Such countries as the Argentine and Brazil, for instance, whose railways have been almost exclusively maintained by British money, will suffer severely. This country is already feeling the strain. "American rails," which have always held a prominent place in British finance, have been exchanged for war-loan stock and are unlikely to resume their proud place among investments in that country for many a year to come. But fortunately the United States was able to take care of the avalanche of sales.

The first effect in England is in the nature of a boom, for the Chancellor of the Exchequer has seen to it that the terms upon which war-loan issues may be purchased are alluring. And so long as the holders feel no urgent necessity to realize their capital, it is a satisfactory investment. But after the war the world will feel the pinch. There will be a thousand enterprises crying out for capital and none will be available under 6 per cent, a ruinous figure in England, where 5 per cent was considered reckless speculation a year ago.

The terms of the war loan are 4 1/2 per cent, issued at par, redeemable in 1925 or any subsequent date to 1945. Dividends on the first half year will be paid December 1. Holders of first war-loan bonds, Consols or other government securities and annuities can convert them into new war bonds under certain conditions. By doubling his holdings in these securities in the new loan, i.e., by purchasing $2000 in the new loan, one would be allowed to pay $1000 in Consols, exchangeable at 66 2/3.

"Thus," says the Wall Street Journal, "the world's premier securities are placed upon an all-round basis of 4 1/2 per cent. The old Consols at 2 1/2 per cent were virtually irredeemable. The national debt was liquidated by purchase of them in the open market and every dollar below par was so much gain to the British government."

The gem of the huge British war loan lies in the bonds that may be purchased by the small investor or the humblest workman. Through the postoffice they can be bought in amounts from $25 to $100, carrying the same rate of interest as subscriptions through the Bank of England, whose minimum transaction is $500.

And a still more modest but lucrative investment is the five-shilling bond—$1.25—

Is It the Last Call?

which is issued through the postoffice, friendly societies and factories, which pay 5 per cent, and can be converted into cash on demand by foregoing the interest. This brilliant scheme successfully lured the vast postoffice savings accounts from their lair, for the temptation to exactly double one's interest without a particle of risk was irresistible.

This consideration for the small man resulted in the government being able to fill in the "colossal blank check" to the tune of five billions, which sum the subscriptions had reached on July 10, when the issue was closed.

The Chancellor's consideration for the "Consols," which twenty years ago stood at the dazzling figure of 114 and are now at their lowest ebb, 66 2/3, and would have inevitably dropped lower without this privilege, found grateful response. The government has gained the cordial gratitude of a much-tried investor at moderate cost, considering the necessity of the times. It was perhaps the most brilliant of the many happy ideas embodied in the financial scheme; for, if all the Consol-holders had taken advantage of the privilege to pay for half their war-loan stock in Consols, it would have ensured four billions of subscriptions without tapping any other source.

As it was, the British government found itself in the happy position of suffering an embarrassment of wealth.

This country has lent Great Britain invaluable help in that we were in a position to take securities in foreign countries off their hands. The United States has now largely displaced England as supporters of such enterprises as Argentine rails.

For all ordinary purposes there is money and to burn in the British Empire at the present time. The Bank of England rate has never exceeded 4 per cent, at any time during the war and was once as low as 1 1/2-16, while money on commercial paper can be readily obtained at 2 per cent, for ninety days in England today. With the greatest war in history on her hands, Britannia has cheaper money than during the financial stress in this country in 1907, when the Bank of England rate rose to 5 1/2 per cent.

Whatever the shortcomings of administration, of labor, of the supply of munitions, it is obvious there is no muddling, no slackness in British financial affairs.

MORE PATRIOTISM NEEDED.

In the life of all the republics of history there has come the childhood of patriotism, simplicity and public virtue; the manhood of military achievement, conquest and power; the old age of wealth, extravagance, corruption and debauchery; and lastly the senility of decay and the silence of death. The republics of antiquity occupied centuries in treading the inevitable round, but we live in an age of steam and electricity, and we have whirled to the confines of the second era. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" and only cash payments can be received. Years ago the Southern Pacific ran a train from New York to San Francisco in eighty hours. When it was rushing down the western slope of the Alleghenies a cinder from the fire that generated the force that propelled it burned a hole in the brakes pipe; the compressed air, whose force might have stopped the flying train, was scattered through space, and had there been one broken rail, one misplaced switch, one defective axle or wheel the pitiless wreck of the rushing pageant of progress.

HEAD-ON TO WAR.

(CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES)
 BY GEORGE W. KIRCHWAY,
 Kent Professor of Law, Columbia University.

DO OUR wise men who are shaping our destinies—do the American people generally—understand that we are moving head-on to a collision with the Teutonic powers?

Doubtless there is a considerable section of our people, including many men of light and leading, who see it clearly enough and do not shrink from the conclusion. The terrible efficiency of the German war machine, the relentless, the "frightfulness" with which it pursues its ends, have created in such minds the impression, which has come to dominate the British public, that Germany must be destroyed in order that it is a craven thing for us to stand aside and let the allies fight our battles for us. To them must be added those of our people, also a considerable number, who believe that, with nations as with individuals, the only possible resort to a blow is an answering blow, a group whose indignation at the wanton destruction of the Lusitania has flamed up into a warlike rage.

Now it is clear that the President and the bulk of the American people are in neither of these classes. Shocked as we have been by the savagery of Germany's warfare, revolted as we are at the "sacred rights of neutrals and of humanity" which have become enthroned in the public conscience and embodied in the public law of the civilized world shall be preserved inviolate for future generations, we are not prepared to accept the conclusion, that it is either necessary or desirable for us to throw ourselves into the arena of the war.

We are not a peace-at-any-price people. We have not become enervated by our long years of peaceful living and striving. If war were the only way—say, if it were the better way—of safeguarding the rights for which we are contending, we should not shrink from it. It is just on this point that we are unconvinced.

Let none of our fiery spirits accuse us of cowardice, if we reckon upon the probable consequences of a war with Germany. Apart from the incalculable waste of life and treasure which it would involve, we cannot forget that for us to abandon our position of neutrality would be to abandon the starving millions of Belgium and Poland and Serbia to their fate; would be to surrender our impregnable position of detachment from the vicious circle of European rivalries and to enmesh us, perhaps forever, in the tangled web of diplomacy and balances of power which has brought on the present war; would be to throw into the melting pot of war the very rights for which we are so concerned—the right of neutrals to travel in safety in the high seas; the right of noncombatants to live even where it is to the interest of belligerents to destroy. No; we certainly do not want war with Germany. If war can honestly be avoided, let it be avoided.

But—and here's the rub—while we have not the least intention of going to war, we expect from our government a policy which, in the absence of a miracle, is sure to lead to war. Accordingly the note which has just been dispatched to Berlin is just what we were waiting for—a ringing utterance, in noble language, reaffirming our position and making it clear that a repetition of the "grave and unjustifiable violations" of the rights of American citizens of which Germany has been guilty will not be tolerated by our government. One cannot but wonder if the American public knows what it means to charge a friendly power to its face with the commission of "illegal and inhuman acts," to declare that its conduct, if persisted in, would constitute an unpardonable offense, to announce that a repetition of such acts must be regarded by our government as "deliberately unfriendly." Our friends in Europe are under no illusion as to the probable effect of all this. "Diplomatic war," they call it in England, and say that "it cannot go on for long, and must force the nation to take up arms in earnest."

Happily, if Germany so wills, the door is still open for an adjustment of the trouble. Some friendly power may take advantage of the Hague convention for the pacific settlement of international disputes and "tender its good offices or mediation to the states at variance." Or our government may act on the German suggestion to deal with Great Britain's violation of our rights as neutrals and so furnish to the imperial government an opportunity to abandon its illegal submarine warfare. Or, better still, perhaps, a conference of the powers might be convoked to deal with the whole question of neutral versus belligerent rights and either make a new adjustment of the rules of international private law, or, as the President has called "the extraordinary conditions created by this war," or bring to the support of our diplomacy the public opinion of the civilized world.

Surely, unless our statesmanship is bankrupt, as that of Europe proved itself to be just a year ago, we shall find a way out of this intolerable situation.

RIPLING RHYMES.

AT ANY PRICE.

The more I watch that foolish war, and wonder what they're fighting for, the more I read of crimson rain, and endless windrows of the slain, the more I hope that war may cease; the more I hope that peace may come; the more I hope that peace may come; the more I hope that peace may come.

A vote is a public trust, not a personal possession. The vice of nonpartisanship is that it substitutes partisanship of individuals for partisanship of ideas and places a premium on self-seeking.

Ours is "a government of the people, by the people, for the people." There is not a farmer who drives a plow, not a mechanic whose deft fingers create wealth at the loom or beat the music of labor upon the anvil; there is not a clerk in a store; there is not an artisan; there is not a laborer; there is not a man who expects, by his industry, to acquire property or gain a livelihood for his family who is not interested—directly, earnestly, vitally interested—in the standard of American patriotism.

Let us keep full advanced and who ought not to ask himself as he approaches the polls, how can I vote so as to promote, not so much the interest of individuals, but also the best interests of my country, my State and my nation?

The duty of the hour is to encourage love of country and to revive the spirit of patriotism throughout the land.

 She: Why, how's that?
 He: Well, I've seen sport syphoned and gargled, but he's the first one I ever saw who yodeled it.

A "RED" SOCIALIST.

If I were a Socialist I'd choose to be one of the Jack London type—gritty, prosperous, with money to own a yacht, a ranch, a typewriter; and independence enough to wear a soft collar all the time if I wanted to, even in the presence of a valet.—[L. Clare Davis, in Stockton Mail.]

[Washington Star:] It is possible that Germany might be willing to dispense with Zeppelin warfare if such action could be regarded as a concession of any importance.

A Dialogue.

War: 'Twas ever thus, 'twill ever be. War is a grim necessity.

Peace: What was, is past; what is, must come. The claims of War be met in Peace.

War: When foes assail a nation's Right It is in duty bound to fight.

Peace: The nobler nation seeks redress Of wrongs in calm deliberation.

War: When ranking wounds cause embittered pain, The God of War flouts arbitration.

Peace: A world laid waste for "Jut's" sake. When duty it were a world to make.

War: Allegiance to our flag must be. To quell—destroy the enemy.

Peace: Our ensign bears the pen and seal. Life pledged to serve the Peace ideal.

War: To fight bespeaks man's strength and power. His glory is in conquest's hour.

Peace: Man's glory lies in Reason's might. In battle brave for Truth and Right.

War: Our flag means Force—armed strength. Means capture, freedom, victory!

Peace: Our banner pure where'er unfurled. Means Justice, Peace—throughout the World.

DEKS TO DROWN SONG.

Murderer Screaches in Jail While Ellen Beach Yaw Sings to Prisoners—Subdued with an Effort.

The maddening yells of an alleged murderer were in competition with the sweet notes of a song rendered by Ellen Beach Yaw at the California State Jail yesterday.

Manuel Amado, charged with the murder of Juan Villa, was being taken to the County Jail to Justice Yaw began a song to the prisoners. She has been occasionally doing for some time lately that Deputy Sheriff Sepulveda was forced to stay in the prison for a few minutes with the prisoner was being subdued with the grim silence of the chambers of the jail. Meanwhile the song of Yaw was quieted and taken to the prison.

When she finished her song and was nearly applauded.

In the "Golden Book of Mercy" will be recorded the names of all Jewish war sufferers and children who subscribe to the fund of the United Relief Committee for aiding Jewish sufferers in the European war zone. A simple and attractive method for raising money and perpetuating the names of the donors was explained by Rabbi Dr. Drachman of New York City last evening at a mass meeting of the Jewish War Sufferers Relief Society at the Arrow Theater.

He is creating a Jewish charitable Legion of Honor out of all who contribute $1 or more to the relief fund," Rabbi Drachman explained. "There are two forms of certificates, one for $1 and one for $5. This plan will enable not only the wealthy but also the moderate circumstances, and the poor, to contribute to the fund."

Why There'll Be No Grocers Thursday.

Twenty-five Thousand Persons Expected to Journey to Santa Monica and Take Part in Merry Affair that will Culminate in a Mysterious Wedding.

Thrifty housewives of this city should take heed and purchase their groceries sometime tomorrow, for on Thursday it will take far more than the keen eyes of the aforesaid housewives to discover a grocery store that is open and ready for business. And all because every grocer of the city is planning to attend the second annual grocers' picnic to be held Thursday at Ocean Park.

The Committee on Entertainment was busy yesterday perfecting plans and late last night announced everything was ready for the big day. Mayor Dudley of Santa Monica, who discovered yesterday that he really was a mayor after all, and not just one of the three commissioners, will be host to the picnicers, and promises to give them the key to the city.

The Ocean Park pier and beach will be turned over to the grocers. There will be swimming events for the fair sex, a fat man's race, a bowling contest, target shooting, a race for delivery boys and a wedding. Great secrecy surrounds this last momentous affair, and those who know refuse to divulge the name of the happy couple. Somebody said, however, that the bride and groom will be presented with $75 worth of picnic, canned goods and cold storage eggs, with which to start their honeymoon.

A new song, written especially for the occasion, will be sung by a grocer's quartette, now being trained by expert officials. Railroad officials predicted yesterday that 25,000 persons will be present at the outing and are preparing accommodations accordingly.

FOUR HURT IN CRASH. Ambulance Collides with Another Automobile, Occupants of Which go to Hospital with Bruises.

Four persons were slightly injured last night when the County Hospital ambulance collided with an automobile driven by William Patrick of No. 1184 East street. The accident occurred near Sixth and Mateo streets. The injured are Mrs. Hattie O'neal, 714 Merchant street, and Miss Eliza Patrick and the driver, Mr. Patrick. All were taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment for lacerations and bruises about the body. They were taken to their homes last night.

The accident, according to Jean Cogan, driver of the ambulance, occurred when he drove out of Mateo street onto Sixth street while answering a "furl call." Mr. Patrick, he said, apparently failed to hear the ambulance bell and did not stop his own machine in time to avoid the accident.

Of the changed attitude of the government toward great corporations, designated frequently as trusts, Mr. McCormick had little to say, admitting that perhaps this is one of the influences for better business conditions. He declared his own factories are not furnishing munitions of war of any character.

Our prospects are good for the ensuing year, even in South America, where conditions were far more demoralized than in North America," he said. "The sudden suspension of all European credits and the practical severing of financial relations were injurious to the South American countries and it has taken time to readjust these conditions. The United States will be greatly benefited by this readjustment."

The visit of the McCormick party is purely for pleasure. "We have come to see the exposition, of which we have heard and read so much, and to enjoy these to the fullest possible extent," said Mr. McCormick. "This is our vacation time."

Incidentally, the visitors, who have been here a number of times, are not now traveling in a private car. "We're traveling just as simply as possible," said the head of the great corporation, which at the San Francisco exposition had one of the largest individual displays of any American concern.

DIDN'T GET THE MONEY. An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the Farmers' Dairy in the United States District Court yesterday by M. J. Peavey, with a bill for $119,931. P. Guidetti, with one for $450, all for milk sold and delivered.

With gravel and sand available in the bed of the river for construction of the confining walls of the canal, the chief cost would be for labor and cement.

How rejoined the idle portion of the population would be to secure the work that such a gigantic undertaking would afford.

I am through with my dream. I hope Bill Mulholland will have a "nightmare" after reading this because he can build it if given a chance. Now you Board of Trade Chamber of Commerce, you staff of City Engineers get your heads together before spending millions as suggested in Sunday's Times. Get busy dreaming on a ship canal for Los Angeles, along the natural bed of the river to the sea.

Now's Time to Fill up Larder.

BECAUSE THE GROCERS ARE TO PICNIC THURSDAY.

Twenty-five Thousand Persons Expected to Journey to Santa Monica and Take Part in Merry Affair that will Culminate in a Mysterious Wedding.

Thrifty housewives of this city should take heed and purchase their groceries sometime tomorrow, for on Thursday it will take far more than the keen eyes of the aforesaid housewives to discover a grocery store that is open and ready for business. And all because every grocer of the city is planning to attend the second annual grocers' picnic to be held Thursday at Ocean Park.

The Committee on Entertainment was busy yesterday perfecting plans and late last night announced everything was ready for the big day. Mayor Dudley of Santa Monica, who discovered yesterday that he really was a mayor after all, and not just one of the three commissioners, will be host to the picnicers, and promises to give them the key to the city.

The Ocean Park pier and beach will be turned over to the grocers. There will be swimming events for the fair sex, a fat man's race, a bowling contest, target shooting, a race for delivery boys and a wedding. Great secrecy surrounds this last momentous affair, and those who know refuse to divulge the name of the happy couple. Somebody said, however, that the bride and groom will be presented with $75 worth of picnic, canned goods and cold storage eggs, with which to start their honeymoon.

A new song, written especially for the occasion, will be sung by a grocer's quartette, now being trained by expert officials. Railroad officials predicted yesterday that 25,000 persons will be present at the outing and are preparing accommodations accordingly.

LARRY RELEASED BECAUSE OF LAW.

The rule of the National League that suspended players could not be carried on the disabled list caused the Giants to give an outright release to Larry McLean, who had been carried as suspended since his fight in St. Louis with McGraw and Kincaid. At last accounts, Larry was playing with Mike Donlin's "all stars" around the New York semi-pro parks.

INDIANS' COACH REAL ARTICLE.

Lieut. Weir Starting from the Ground Up.

Sherman Braces to Have a Strong Team.

Material Green, but Learns Quickly.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

The Sherman Indians will be back on the football map this fall in capital letters. The man who will put them there is Lieut. J. L. Weir, late of the United States Army, and captain of the West Point football variety in 1910. He is the new coach at Riverside and a live wire with knockout voltage.

He has been at Sherman three days. In that time he has become the boss and friends of the Indians. He has taken hold in the steady, real football way.

There were thirty-three young bucks last working yesterday. The word has been sent into the desert and mountains that there is a coach at the school. Word has come back from the bushes that they will come in from the wilds immediately. A squad of sixty is expected before the end of the month.

REGULAR COACH.

Lieut. Weir is starting in the right way. He is not trying to cram a lot of fancy ideas into the Indians' heads. He has not even shown them a single formation. But he is teaching them how to handle a football, how to catch it, how to fall on it, how to kick it, how to run down on punts.

He takes one thing at a time, carefully explaining it, and showing the bucks just why it should be done that way.

He is pounding in the fundamentals and only those. And before he goes beyond that rest assured they will know them. He believes in laying a foundation for his house before he nails the roof on. Lieut. Weir is a real coach.

GREEN MATERIAL.

The material yesterday looked light. The heaviest man did not weigh over 140 pounds. But the authorities at Sherman explained that the real bucks had still to come in, and the coach said that not over four of the squad out would be on the first team. But next year of the year after they will be ready for duty and service.

Weir is a builder with an eye for the future.

With one or two exceptions none of those in suits had seen a game. But there never was a squad more ready in earnest. They listened to their coach's instructions with wide open eyes. There was no talking among them. They did not even ask him a question. When he told them to do what he had explained to them they did it. The first time awkwardly, but with marked improvement on each trial. No man made the same mistake as the man who tried before him.

LEARN QUICKLY.

They emphasized the truth of the often-repeated statement that football is second nature to the Indian. But the real credit belongs to the way their coach was teaching them. He wanted no time in literary explanations, he was there in overalls doing the stunts himself. All they had to do was watch him and do likewise.

Lieut. Weir himself was tickled at the way the braves were taking hold of his ideas. "They are apt pupils," he explained. "The first day they knew nothing. Now they are handling the ball as if they had been doing it all their lives. They stand watching me with open eyes. They never say a word. I think it is all going over their heads. But when I ask them to do something, I find they can."

HANSHUTE IMPRESSED.
Even Harry Hanshute was deeply impressed with the beginning. Hanshute, besides being a famous automobile driver, was also one of Michigan's greatest football men. "There is one thing that will not worry you, Weir," he said, "and that's there condition. They are as hard as nails now. They will be able to do something, I find they can."

CORONA ROAD RACE IS OFF.

SENTIMENT SEEMS TO BE VERY MUCH AGAINST IT.

Committee Organized to Sound
the Opinion of the Corona Citizens
Reports that Half the Town
Wants the Race and the Other Half is Much Against It.

BY ALBERT GILL WADDELL.

Plans are under way for the 1915 Corona road race.

A committee is now at work on the Circle City classic, but it is hardly probable that there will be a speed slaughter on the Corona course this year.

THE REASONS.

There are many reasons why it is inadvisable for the Corona people to stage their usual speed programme this winter. There are a few reasons why the race should be promoted again. But it is up to the public.

The Corona Road Racing Association, the organization which successfully promoted America's greatest road race for two years and landed a world's road race record which will stand for some time to come, has turned the annual race problem over to the citizens of Corona. A meeting was called and a committee appointed to make a thorough canvas of the city for the purpose of finding out exactly how many are for the race this year.

LITTLE CASH.

Last year, those who subscribed to the race stock put up but a fraction of the subscribed amount in cash. Paper was accepted for the balance. The amount collected in cash, $2000 or $2500, did not go far in the preliminary preparations for the contest.

When this money was spent, it was necessary to borrow from the banks on the personal notes.

Of course, the race paid. It was the only road race in Southern California last year that did pay. When the smoke cleared away, Corona had realized a world's record and a few thousand dollars in coin of the realm. It was a great success; but financially it was not the success that should have been, considering the time and energy spent by the combined citizenship of Corona.

SATISFIED.
"Well done," said the conservative ones. "The coveted world's record is ours, let it go at that. Let's give no more races until our record is shattered."

But with the coming of the summer, interest in the annual Corona classic automatically revived. Automobile men of Los Angeles be-

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

PORTLAND, Aug. 2.—A final work-out on Multnomah Field was held today by the athletes of the Irish-American Athletic Club of New York and tomorrow they will leave by steamer for San Francisco to participate in the coming title meet.

Coach Lawson Robertson declares his men are in the best of shape and predicts that records will be broken. Hannes Kolehmainen, the Finn, romped through three miles in 14:52.4 today, paced for 14 miles by Abel Kivist, who was clocked at 7:24. Pat Ryan threw the hammer 185 feet and Brondor the javelin 179 feet today.

Duncan, the discus man, took a day off, but Fahy jumped a little and Rens walked a mile in 7:59.4. Ted Meredith and Alvah Meyer did some short distance running. Meyer doing a furlong in 22 seconds flat. Meyer is the East's hope in the sprints, and Meredith is generally picked to beat Diamond of Chicago in the quarter-mile.

High Order.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Chicago made it two straight from Philadelphia today, defeating the visitors 4 to 1. All runs scored were earned, but those made by Chicago were the outcome of hitting, which was bunched and of the extra-base variety. One run was produced by a homer in the fourth by Schulte, who also made a double in the fifth which drove in a run. Cheney gave the visitors two hits, one each in the first and second innings, but became wild in the sixth and walked two men. Manager Brannan started him again in the seventh, but he lost control and after walking one man was replaced by Lavender. The pass to Becker in the seventh saved the visitors from a shutout, as two hits were bunched off Lavender and the lone run scored. Both clubs fielded well. Schulte, Zimmerman, Good and Williams cutting off hits by the visitors, while Beck, Stock and Bancroft kept the local score down. Score:

Stengel, who had been in the game since the first inning, was weakened in the ninth when he passed two men. Stengel followed this with a triple, bringing in two runs, and Gotsch again singled opportunely, scoring Stengel. Score:

LOSES HEALTH AND WEALTH.

Bag of Precious Stones Taken from Pasadena.

Escapes from Mexico with Pursuers Close.

Police Seek to Clear Away Mystery of Fire.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Aug. 3.—After an absence of six years, Ben Clegorn, a former Pasadena resident, arrived yesterday, broken in health and with his hair almost white, as the result of ill-treatment received at the hands of Mexican rebels, who captured and held him for ransom.

Clegorn is a young man only 38 years old, but the terrible experiences he underwent during the three weeks he was in the hands of the rebels have made him an old man. He is at present staying with his uncle, George Benton, and expects to remain here until he can bring back his former good health.

The rebels who captured Clegorn robbed him of the fruits of six years' mining, including a sack of precious stones. He was then held as a hostage. One night he managed to free himself from his bonds and escaped, eluding his pursuers until he gained the Mexican coast. He then worked his way along the coast, finally reaching the United States.

Clegorn will remain in Pasadena with his uncle until he has regained his health, and will then, in all probability, return to Mexico to reclaim his mine, which he says is an extremely rich one.

CAUSE A MYSTERY.

The mystery surrounding the fire which broke out in the Emporium store at No. 197 East Colorado street, late Saturday night, threatening a portion of the business district, still remains unexplained. The police and insurance adjusters are investigating the case, but up to the present time have been unable to assign any satisfactory cause for the blaze.

Chief of Police Clifford says that the fire department made a thorough examination of the premises following the fire, and stated that it could not have been caused by defective wiring. Neither, he states, could it have been caused by spontaneous combustion. He is of the opinion that it might have been started by a match or a cigar thrown on the floor.

A. Reims, proprietor of the store, had been away from the establishment hours before the fire broke out, and he is unable to explain how it could have originated. His stock was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars, and the building was damaged quite seriously. Both the stock and the building were insured.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Death came suddenly to Mrs. Jane Marsh of No. 238 South Euclid avenue, while she was attending the sessions of the Methodist camp meeting at Huntington Park yesterday. Her death was a great shock to her many friends in Pasadena, where she has been prominently identified with the First Methodist Church for many years.

Mrs. Marsh was 71 years old, and leaves her widower, William Marsh, a prominent business man of the Crown City. The body will be brought to Pasadena for burial, the funeral services being held from the Methodist Church next Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

MORE DIRECTORS.

A movement is on foot to increase the number of directors of the Tournament of Roses Association from eleven to twenty-five. To this end, ballots have been sent to all the members providing for the addition of two paragraphs to section No. 4, making the increase of the number of directors from eleven to twenty-five. The proposed amendment is being circulated in the city, and the requested increase in the directorate is in order that the city may be better represented on the board.

President Turner states that this will insure a greater co-operation on the part of the citizens for the permanency and success of the tournament. It will require the written consent of two-thirds of the members of the association to carry the amendment.

FROM THE SOUTH.

One hundred and sixty southerners from Florida, Georgia, Alabama and other South Atlantic States visited Pasadena yesterday. They were members of a party personally conducted to the coast by Prof. W. L. Cate of the Florida Normal School at Madison, Fla. After taking this party back to Pasadena, they will return to the coast with another large party.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

University of California Experts to Instruct Hundreds of Farmers of Pomona at High School.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, July 31.—Beginning August 9, and lasting for five days, with forenoon, afternoon and evening sessions, a farmers' institute will be held in the High School at this place. The institute will be conducted by the University of California, citrus experts, and they will attempt to teach the farmers and school boys of the valley how to combat the citrus scale which is said to be extremely noticeable in the groves of the valley this year.

Lectures on fumigation and lantern slide exhibits of various scale pests will be part of the program. Practical demonstration of fumigating out-lets will be made in groves at night. Four hundred ranchmen are expected to attend.

WON'T STAND BEATING.

VISALIA, Aug. 2.—Many of the husbands of our colony beat their wives. It seems to be a custom. I am not sure. This was the statement of Lena, an attractive young matron of the Italian district near here, when she appeared in justice court last evening and swore to a complaint charging her husband with battery. "American laws were made for the women as well as for the men, and I intend that my husband shall be held himself in the future," was her statement when she left.

Corona Road Race Off.

gan to figure and comment. Citizens of Corona began to figure also.

Then it was that the Corona Road Racing Association assembled. There were votes for and against. The special committee for canvassing the city was the solution to the problem.

One thing against the race this year is the condition of the roads. There is to be a lot of improvement work done on the stretches running into Corona this winter and according to present plans, the roads will be torn up about the time of the proposed race.

After making a partial canvas of the city yesterday, members of the special committee reported about a "fifty-fifty" standing. Some are strongly in favor of the annual contest while others are bitterly opposed to the revival of the race.

F. H. Ott, chairman of the Executive Committee which handled the race last Thanksgiving Day, is one who cast his vote with the "no's." Mr. Ott says that Corona has nothing to gain by the revival of the race this year and everything to lose.

MUCH DANGER.

There is the possibility of the failure that attended certain other Southern California races last year and there is always a certain amount of danger connected with a speed duel. Mr. Ott is one who is anxious to let well enough alone.

"There is one thing certain," said Mr. Ott last night. "The purse should be larger. We offered $12,000, the largest purse ever offered in Southern California before; yet that is a small amount for a man to risk his neck for. I believe in giving the drivers real money and it's a question in my mind whether or not the race would be a financial success if we added a few extra thousand to the purse."

NO ENTRY FEE.

"Another thing. We collected something like $3000 in entry fees last year which can't be done now. They have all sworn off on entry fees and with that loss, the additional prize money and the great expense of promoting such a race, I hardly believe it advisable this year to launch a race at Corona.

"The big purses offered at Indianapolis, Chicago and other speedway cities have taught the drivers to expect big money. They deserve it at that; but the speedway has practically eliminated the road race course all over the country.

"If the public wants a race, if the citizens of Corona are anxious to stage a race this year, I will do my share toward making the thing a success."

"There was so much road racing in Southern California last year that it will be a hard matter to successfully promote a great race this year. The people are tired of the speed game. The speed kings are common here. If, however, after a year, Southern California wants a road race or if our world's road race record is broken, I believe that we will apply for a sanction and stage another Corona road race. But for this year, it is possible, only possible."

COUNTRY CLUB GROWING FAST.

SAN BERNARDINO TO GET NEW CLUB WITH GLASSY GOLF LINKS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 2.—The movement for a country club with golf links directly north of this city is meeting with hearty support, according to the announcement of G. W. Galbraith, who says that forty memberships have been secured to date. E. D. Roberts, Seth Marshall and other local people are interested in the country club, and are assisting in signing up the members. The proposed location for the club and links is on the slopes of the Little Mountain. One hundred members are to be secured before the charter is closed.

LORD DECIES TO GIVE A TROPHY.

Lord Decies, who recently won the Irish Derby with his thoroughbred colt, Ballaghtobin, has notified the National Horse Show Association that he will offer a trophy this year for a new military class at the annual exhibition in Madison Square Garden, November 6-12. Conditions of the petition are not yet known, but it is thought the British army officer is planning to set up a new and practical class of some sort for the cavalrymen and their horses. Lord Decies, then Major J. O. Boreford, rode the winner of the first international competition of officers' chargers at New York's famous horse show in 1909. It was on this occasion that he met Miss W. Gould, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, who is now Lord Decies.

NOTE—So much comment has been aroused among cigarette smokers by the sensible suggestions in this advertisement that we have received several letters from Los Angeles men, suggesting that the advertisement be reprinted for the benefit of those who missed seeing it in last week's paper. Clip this out and keep it, as it will not appear again.

find "yours"

Get all the smoke-pleasure you pay for.
Find the right cigarette—a SENSIBLE one that fits your own likes and dislikes.

It may or may not be Fatima

—but this will help you find it.

Tastes differ—in fashions, foods and pretty girls.

Also in cigarettes.

A cigarette that started out to please every man's taste would end up by pleasing none.

Most of us like our cigarette smoke deliciously cool and refreshing. The Mexican likes his hot and dry, with a nice little peppery sting in it.

Some men like a cigarette wholesomely, fragrantly mild. Others of us hunt for a cigarette almost as heavy as a block of cigar.

Most of us want an "easy" cigarette—a SENSIBLE one, so that no matter how steadily or how many we smoke, we'll feel as fit as a fiddle. Other men, though, don't care about that. They smoke only a few—so they want a kick like a mule's in each puff.

All of us want our smoke "full-bodied"—it must satisfy that smoke-hunger. But the cigarette that just fills the bill for you may not do at all for your next-door neighbor.

Sometimes—among all the brands on the market—is the one just-right cigarette for YOU!

Maybe it's the very one you have now in your pocket—but are you SURE! Maybe it's some entirely "different" cigarette—it may or may not be Fatima.

But "find it!" Until you do, you're cheating yourself out of a whole lot of smoke-pleasure. Also you're wasting some money.

How to Find "yours"

To avoid blindly trying too many different cigarettes, ask yourself, first of all, this question:

"Just what do I like in a cigarette?"

If you smoke only a few every day, you may prefer a cigarette which is rather rich or heavy and "oily." Or you may like one which has a rather strong "oriental" taste with a pungency almost like perfume. Or you may want a cigarette with that noticeably "sweetish" Egyptian flavor. But if you smoke quite often—if you would like to smoke whenever you feel like it and without any effect on the tongue or throat or any fear of a heavy or "heady" feeling afterwards—then you should choose some cigarette such as Fatima, a cigarette composed of all-pure tobacco of considerable aroma, mellowed by being aged and carefully blended to produce a fragrant and wholesomely mild, yet "full-bodied," smoke. And the smoke must be noticeably COOL. For otherwise your tongue or your throat will soon signal you to stop smoking so often.

If you will ask any Fatima smoker, he will tell you that Fatima never makes him "feel mean"—no matter how many he smokes.

That is why Fatimas are considered the most sensible cigarette by such a large majority of smokers. And that is probably the main reason why hardly any Fatima smokers ever switch! They like a sensible cigarette—and one with a good, pure taste to it.

But the Taste is up to You

All cigarettes are pure, but when it comes to the taste, nobody can help you choose. You simply have to decide for yourself.

Of course, Fatima's taste may not appeal to you. But most men who try Fatimas like the taste so well that they seek no further—otherwise Fatimas could never have won and held their enormous and growing leadership amounting to over one and a half BILLION cigarettes a year.

The one purpose of this advertisement is to ask you in a fair and square way to give Fatima (20 for 15c) a good trial. If they don't happen to suit your taste, you'll quit smoking them of course. But if you like Fatimas as well as MOST men do, you'll be mighty glad you read this advertisement—and ACTED ON IT!

Below are two simple tests which you can easily make and which may help you find your sensible cigarette.

It may or may not be Fatima. But be fair to yourself and find "yours."

TWO TESTS FOR ANY CIGARETTE

The taste of the cigarette—according to a leading tobacco journal—is up to the smoker. But there are other qualities that you should look for in the cigarette.

Here are a couple of tests that may help the average smoker to choose more wisely between different kinds of cigarettes.

The first test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light any cigarette. Draw in a cloud of smoke—a small, ordinary puff. Hold it in your mouth for a few seconds. Let it in your mouth for a few seconds. Now blow out the smoke. If the cigarette contains a high grade of mild tobacco, it will always feel the right proportion, it will always feel cool and smooth both to your throat and to your tongue.

On the other hand, if the proportions are not right and if the cigarette contains inferior grades of tobacco or hidden strands of rank, oily leaf, you will feel a snipping sting at the tip of your tongue or that "sandpaper tickle" in your throat.

Test number two—How do you feel after smoking all day?

If the tobacco in the cigarette is of a correct proportion of mild grades—and if all of the various grades have been properly mellowed by age—and if they have been so blended as to bring out the best qualities in each of the different types of tobacco, you will be able to smoke practically whenever you feel like it throughout the day without feeling any effect from it. But with another grade, you will find that you are less skillful, even though the blend is of the highest grade, you will find along toward the end of the day that you are likely to have that feeling of having "smoked too much."

Incendiaries Ignite Seven Fires in a Night.
Farmer Shoots at Two Men Near Haystack.
Falling Beam Seriously Injures Fire-fighter.

CHINO, Aug. 2.—Chino was treated to a series of seven fires last night and early this morning, which resulted in causing more excitement than any event ever caused since Chino was a dot on the map of the State. The net result in losses footed up to about $10,000 with about $2500 insurance.
Two incendiaries are being hunted over the countryside. They were seen by several citizens, but the fog was too heavy to permit of identification. One citizen, watching his haystack, caught the fellows at their arson acts and fired several shots at them, but they escaped.
From 1 o'clock in the morning until broad daylight every alley and street in and around Chino was patrolled by armed citizens. Officers went in various directions, waking the farmers and telling them to arm themselves and search their premises. From five to fifteen men guarded every alley in the business district. Several clashes were narrowly averted by various citizens approaching each other and each believing the other to be the men wanted for arson.
The first fire started at 10 o'clock in a pile of baled oat hay southwest of the depot, containing 275 tons, the property of the Chino Land and Water Company and was entirely consumed.
Before the hay had burned very long a second alarm was turned in. The fire started in a barn across the railroad tracks and on to the street, where O. J. Newman's hay barn and horse corral were seen to be in flames. The fire spread to the barn and the corral, and the only object saved was one lone pitchfork.
A third alarm was turned in before the hay barn was consumed, by somebody who saw a fire spring up in the rear of Newman's stable, two blocks west of the hay barn. The building was dry and the mangers full of loose hay and the spread of the flames was very rapid. In a few minutes the large building was a mass of flames.
The first men to arrive on the scene rolled O. J. Newman's large automobile, which had been parked before the top was ablaze. A minute more and the machine could not have been saved. A tallyho, costing $1000, was the only thing that was saved. The fire started in a pile of baled oat hay southwest of the depot, containing 275 tons, the property of the Chino Land and Water Company and was entirely consumed.

MAKES THEM PAY.
Justice Cox thinks that when a man who is arrested for speeding demands a jury trial, he should pay a fine big enough to cover the cost of the jury. The reason E. E. Buffum of Long Beach is being fined $10, instead of the usual $10, for speeding, is because he demanded a jury trial. SEWAGE PURIFIED BY BACTERIA.
The Latest in Septic Tanks Installed by a City in Georgia Produces Excellent Results.
[Popular Mechanics.] One of the best examples of modern septic tanks and equipment for sewage purification is the plant recently built for treating the sewage at Atlanta, Ga., where the first modern septic tank ever installed in this country is in service. Septic tanks of this type, though a comparatively recent invention, are already in common use in the Mississippi Valley, and other sections of Germany, and are said to have proved the best means yet devised for the treatment of sewage. The Imhoff tank is simply a modification of the ordinary septic tank, which is itself an enlarged and improved cesspool. As in the case of the cesspool, the process of treating sewage by this method depends on the action of bacteria, but in the septic tank this action is carried out rapidly and on a large scale.

COTTON GINS TO REVOLVE TODAY.
ACREAGE CUT DOWN TO HALF BY EUROPEAN WAR CONDITIONS.
[BY DIRECT WIRE.—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
CALIFORNIA, Aug. 2.—Marking the opening of the 1915-16 cotton season in Imperial Valley, ginning operations will be begun tomorrow morning at the plant of the Imperial Valley Oil and Cotton Company. The opening is later than last year due to a cooler summer.
The output of the season but recently closed was 47,000 bales. On the American side the acreage of cotton was cut down this spring to 20,140, according to reports to County Assessor Weaver. In Lower California the acreage has been increased from 13,000 to approximately 40,000. The decrease was due to low prices induced by the war.
Cotton brokers today received the government report estimating the condition of the United States crop 75.3 against normal. Before the drought in Texas the estimate was 86. With a decreased yield cotton men look for higher prices.

KEEPS CITY'S FLOOR CLEAN.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
POMONA, Aug. 2.—When Police Judge Mason catches a man violating a city ordinance he holds court right then and there. He was going down Second street late Sunday night and he saw a fellow expostulate upon the sidewalk. Shouting to a policeman the judge had the offender brought back to the scene.
"You said the judge," "I saw you spit on the sidewalk. What are you going to do to square yourself?"
"If you'll excuse me this time I promise that I'll never do it again," pleaded the fellow.
"I'd rather have an act than a promise," declared the judge. "I guess you had better scrub up if you want to stay out of jail."
The offender got out his memorandum book, tore out a page, and wrote on it, "I promise that I'll never do it again." The judge thinks that the cure will be permanent.

SCATTER BRANDS.
After firing the Newman livery barn the incendiaries, of whom there were two, went to the northwestern part of town and commenced to set fires. A pile of hay, belonging to Miguel Echegaray, who lives on the corner of Second and Fourth streets, was fired. The owner saw the blaze and managed to extinguish it before much damage had been done. He then took his rifle and laid down by the stack to await the return of the men who set it. They came back soon and he shot at them but missed. They had set a second blaze in the hay before he discovered their presence. After shooting at them Echegaray dropped his rifle and put out the fire the second time, while the men escaped.

POSTOFFICE BURGLARIZED.
Station in Department Store Broken Into—Cash and Stamps Taken.
[BY A. J. NIGHT WIRE.]
BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 2.—Postoffice Station No. 1, located in a local department store, was burglarized by yegmen early Sunday night and $900 in government money and stamps was taken. About $700 of the store's money was also taken. The safe was opened by removing the combination and working the tumblers with a hammer and cold chisel. All indications point to the work of experienced safe crackers.
The robbery was discovered yesterday morning by an employee but the news was not given out until this noon. Entrance to the store was gained by sawing through the iron bars of the windows opening on the roof.

ANXIETY FADES IN BEACH CITY.
Supreme Court Puts Santa Monica on its Feet.
Old Council Returns to its Seats of Power.
Attorney-General Reversed by High Tribunal.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SANTA MONICA, Aug. 2.—The peremptory writ of mandamus asked for by the City Council was granted by the Supreme Court, sitting en banc at San Francisco today to unshackle the muddled municipal situation brought about by the charter amendments.
The result of the decision is to declare that the commissioners who had been appointed by Gov. Johnson are not entitled to their seats and that the old Council shall hold office until January.
In other words, the Attorney-General was not sustained by the court in his decision that the charter amendments became effective upon their ratification by the Legislature.
These amendments will not go into effect to give the city a commission form of government until next January, which will give the people an opportunity to elect three commissioners in December.
The Supreme Court was not unanimous in the decision reached today in the unique action in which the high court assumed original jurisdiction for the purpose of deciding which of the two bodies was the legal governing body of the city.

BELOVED YOUTH DIES.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SAN GABRIEL, Aug. 2.—Howard Fysh, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. H. Fysh of Sunny Slope, died today. The lad, who was one of the best beloved boys of this section, graduated from the San Gabriel schools in June and was to have entered high school this fall. He was 15 years old and an acknowledged leader in sports and games among the boys of the school with whom, as well as with his instructors, he was most popular. On Wednesday he was taken ill and on Friday removed to the Alhambra Hospital, where an operation was performed. The operation was considered successful, but this morning he was stricken with a paralytic stroke, from which he failed to recover consciousness. The funeral will be held at the family home in Sunny Slope tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. John A. Hill of San Gabriel and Rev. John G. Blue of Pasadena officiating. The services will be private.

WHITTIER, Aug. 2.—It cost D. A. Minter just $11.13 to send a box of his home-grown oranges to Whittier to his son, C. C. Minter, who is employed on the Panama Canal Zone. The chief portion of this expense is the express from New York to Panama, the fruit having to go via New York. The mere transportation charges would buy three boxes of the fruit in Panama, and the oranges will have the taste of the home grove.

PLAN TO COMPETE WITH ANGELENOS.
WHOLESALE GROCERY BUILDING AT SAN BERNARDINO IS ORDERED.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 2.—With the purchase of a building site at Rialto avenue and I street in which Los Angeles capital is interested, plans for the erection of a $15,000 wholesale grocery block will be rushed. Henry S. Nait, representing several Los Angeles men, has closed a deal for a 20x350 lot on the Pacific Electric and Santa Fe for $1800. John Ward sold the property.
It is planned to make San Bernardino the distributing point for all of the San Bernardino Valley and for the desert and Imperial Valley. The readjustment of westbound freight schedules reducing the back haul charges from terminal points and placing intermediate points on an equitable ground with Los Angeles is responsible for the move.
It is estimated that thirty carloads of foodstuffs a month will be handled out of here immediately upon the completion of the building.
NO MAN'S LAND.
In order that San Bernardino and Riverside counties may prove jurisdiction in cases of a criminal nature which might arise in the territory, a survey is to be made of that section of the desert known as "Man's land," which stretches for miles near Blythe Junction on the Santa Fe. The supervisors here today ordered that the line between the two counties be run and the gap closed so that in the future crimes that may occur may not go unpunished because of the lack of jurisdiction. In the past many prosecutions, including one for murder, failed because it could not be proved in which county it occurred. Riverside engineers will join in the survey.

SUIT TO RECOVER.
Action Brought Against Los Angeles Investors Involving Large Tract of Land.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
VISALIA, Aug. 2.—George A. Frost, of Los Angeles, trustee for the now defunct Corcoran Development Company, has brought suit in the Superior Court to foreclose on a mortgage covering a large tract of land formerly owned by the company, but later sold to Los Angeles investors who incorporated under the title of the San Joaquin Valley Alfalfa Company against whom the action is brought.
Subsequently to the contract for purchase by the latter corporation a promissory note for $60,000 and a trust deed for the property were placed in the hands of the Los Angeles Trust Savings Bank, the transfer being conditioned upon certain improvements in the 1040 acres of land to be made by the defendants.
According to the complaint these improvements were not made. The plaintiff acting for the trustees of the defunct corporation seeks to recover the land, with clear title, as well as $2600 interest alleged to be due on the note.

VINDICATION AND PICTURES ALSO.

E. P. CLARK GIVEN DOUBLE VICTORY BY JUDGE TRIPLET.

Fight by Tomlinson-Humes, Incorporated, for Possession of Hogarth "Industry and Idleness" Series of Paintings Is Thrown Out of Federal Court.

In the action brought by Frank M. McKee, trustee in bankruptcy of Tomlinson-Humes, Inc., of Chicago, against E. P. Clark and the Los Angeles Warehouse Company, to recover possession of twelve valuable pictures from the brush of William Hogarth, and known as the "Industry and Idleness" series, Judge Triplet yesterday dismissed the bill. This will have the effect of lodging ownership of the works of art in Mr. Clark.

It was alleged by the trustee in bankruptcy that on March 25, 1912, Mr. Clark entered into a contract with the Tomlinson-Humes concern for the sale of the pictures, and that later on, Tomlinson-Humes, by its option and purchased the pictures of Thomas Myers. It was also asserted that in trying to negotiate the sale of the pictures, the firm had expended about $30,000. It was a part of the bill that in endeavoring to sell the pictures they had been placed in the hands of William A. Clark in New York City, for the purpose of inspection, and it was charged that on September 11, 1912, E. P. Clark presented fraudulent evidence before the court, directing William A. Clark to deliver the pictures to him in Los Angeles.

Clark claimed that he had acquired the right and title to the pictures by virtue of a bill of sale from Thomas and Beatrice Myers to the Tomlinson-Humes Company, followed by a bill of sale from the latter firm to E. P. Clark, and that the bill of sale was delivered to him by the Tomlinson-Humes Company.

He alleged that he did not know why the pictures were delivered to him, that he was not present when they were delivered, and that he did not know how Tomlinson-Humes, Inc., got possession of the works of art.

In deciding the case in favor of Mr. Clark, Judge Triplet read decisions on the points involved from many volumes of the law. He said it was the duty of the court to see that the pictures were turned over to him and that, if the owner desired them, it would be necessary to go into court and fight.

It was admitted that the only right of the bankrupt firm to the pictures was a contract of agency, and that the plan to return to Southern California in the early winter.
